E. H. PRATT, Proprietor.

I SOLICIT the attention of Nurserymen and Tree Dealers to my Trade Circular for the Fall of 1875. My stock for the coming season is in all respects equal to that of former years. I invite particular attention to my Standard Pear Trees, of which I have a large stock, embracing all the leading varieties. I cultivate largely the leading popular varieties, such as Bartlett, Seckel, Sheldon, Flemish Beauty, Clapp's Favorite, Buerre d'Anjou, &c., and can furnish liberal quantities of each in general orders.

My location is at the head of the Genesee Valley, 50 miles south of Rochester, in the midst of the richest and finest fruit growing section of the state. Dansville is the present terminus of the Genesee Valley Branch of the Erie R. R., over which there are three trains daily to and from Rochester and Buffalo, connecting at Avon with trains on the Erie Road for all points east and west. Passengers leaving Rochester at 9:10 a. m. arrive here at noon, have five hours here, and can return to Rochester or Buffalo the same night in time to connect with the principal trains east or west. My facilities for shipping are unsurpassed, as the line of the railroad runs through my grounds, and I have a side track to my packing house door, thus doing away with the necessity for cartage.

Particular attention is paid to packing and shipping large orders in bulk, in tight box cars, thus saving the heavy expense of boxing. I have had large experience in this method of shipping and can confidently recommend it in all cases where trans-shipment is not necessary.

Office and packing yard on Maple street, five minutes walk from depot.

TO PURCHASERS.

Plain and full directions should be given as to how packages should be marked; by what route they are to be shipped; and to whom they are to be consigned at the various points of trans-shipment. All articles will be packed with the utmost care, and all packages will be forwarded entirely at the risk of the purchaser. The selection of varieties should in all cases be left to me, but I will conform to the wishes of the purchaser as far as practicable.

TERMS.

Cash with the order, or satisfactory reference, or good indorsed notes payable at some bank, with current rate of exchange on New York.

These are all highly ornamental, and are valuable for cider, preserves and cooking, and some of the improved varieties are rich and pleasant for the dessert. The great hardihood of the trees, and their great productiveness, make them very valuable in cold climates where the common varieties of apples do not succeed.
